

Democracy Now!'s War & Peace Report

With Host Amy Goodman, winner of the 2003
Electronic Frontier Foundation Pioneer Award

And Co-host Juan Gonzalez, NY Daily News columnist
and President,
National Assoc.
of Hispanic
Journalists

Democracy Now! is a national, daily public radio and TV news hour, now expanded to two (stand-alone) hours in this time of war.

The program airs daily on over 120 stations including Pacifica radio stations and affiliates, NPR stations, public access TV stations, Free Speech TV (Dish Network Channel 9415), and on the internet at democracynow.org. Also available to PBS stations.

Winner, George Polk award.

Winner, 2003 NCFB Golden Reel for Best National News story for Jeremy Scahill's Iraq Journal.

Democracy Now!'s War & Peace Report is produced weekdays, live from 8-10 am EST, as two stand-alone hours, distributed over the Pacifica KU Satellite (repeated later) and on the PRSS Ch. A67.7. Also available as two hour-long broadcast-quality MP3s.

"I love Democracy Now! because it enables me to hear important voices..."
Clarence Page, Chicago Tribune

"I am a regular listener . . . it is stimulating, refreshing and informative!"
Don Terry, The New York Times

"I invariably feel that I am better informed after listening to Democracy
Now!"
Henry Weinstein, Los Angeles Times

". . . in this age of corporate media conglomeration, when National Public Radio sounds as safe as a glass of warm milk, "Democracy Now!"
retains a jagged and intriguing edge."
Michael Powell, staff writer,
The Washington Post

"The response to Democracy Now! over the last six years has been overwhelming. The show raises more money for us than either Morning Edition or All Things Considered. The message from our community is clear - Democracy Now! is an essential part of our programming schedule."
- Christine Ahern, Station Manager, WJFF (NY)

Since day one, Democracy Now! has consistently outperformed both Morning Edition and All Things Considered, both during fund drives and in listener loyalty. For many listeners, it is the high point of our broadcast day. We highly recommend adding Democracy Now! to any station looking to expand the reach and scope of their news programming."
- Mary Aigner, Program Director, KZYX (CA)

"Democracy Now! has really helped build our audience during the afternoon news block and it has been very important in our fundraising. The show has been hugely successful. It has brought a whole new audience to KUNM and it has allowed us to diversify our listenership."
- Marcos Martinez, Program Director, KUNM (NM)
